

PUBLIC DAILY LEDGER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1894.

ONE CENT.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are visiting, please drop in a note to that effect.

Miss Lyde Burgess has returned from a visit at Cincinnati.

Mr. Will Frazee of Charleston, W. Va., is here visiting relatives.

Miss Mary Barker of Covington has returned home after a visit in this city.

Miss Anna Hollman of Mr. Sterling is in the city visiting her father, who is very ill.

Mr. Joseph I. Dorsey and daughter, Miss Theodosia, of Flemingsburg are visiting relatives in the city.

Miss Maggie Fitzgerald and Mr. Dan Day attended the Fitzgerald-Bona nuptials at Lexington Thursday.

Mr. J. Foster Barbour, Cashier of the Bank of Mayville, attended the State Bankers' Convention at Paducah.

Miss Mary Huston January reached home last evening, after a visit of several weeks in Louisville and at Frankfort.

Matter for publication in The Ledger MUST be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning.

Otto Callahan of Helena, who is a citizen of Illinois, has gone to that state to cast his vote.

Gilbert Campbell of Mr. Sterling, aged 12 years, fell from a horse Tuesday and was instantly killed.

Colonel Northrup's Big Sandy tobacco raising venture has, according to rumor, proven a most decisive success.

It is said on $200 betting authority that one of the candidates on the Boyd County Democratic ticket is an A. P. A.

Ann McCallister, a coonsa, used bad language and the Police Judge said, in his blandest manner, "Get and finks."

Mack Johnson of Brown county was one of the persons killed in the mob at Washington Court-house a few days ago.

A. S. Rice of Mt. Olivet and W. C. Richardson of Ashland have been elected Vice Presidents of the Kentucky Bankers' Association.

E. B. Muir, one of the wealthiest farmers in Jessamine county, assigned at Nicholasville. Assets, $75,000; liabilities somewhat more.

The striking miners of Carter county are still firing from ambush on the men who have taken their places in the mines. Several arrests were made yesterday.

J. Lee Bruce, a grandson of Rev. J. Foster and for a short time resident in this city, is now in St. Joseph, Mo., where he will be married on the 24th, last.

Mr. John Duley has the Editor's thanks for a nice mess of fish, caught with his own little hook and line. Just as soon as the fish heard he was coming they all rushed up and took a whack at his bait.

At Chattanooga there has been filed in the Chancery Court a bill alleging the insolvency of the Lookout Mountain Consolidated Company. The property involved is Lookout Mountain Inn and $800,000 of stock of the Lookout Mountain Company.

Mr. J. M. Stockton of this city, through his attorneys, Messrs. Pogue, Pottinger & Pogue, Cincinnati, will bring suit against several newspapers of that city for the unwarranted use of his name in connection with a recent sensational attempt at suicide.

New York City has political sensation in the shape of a well-substantiated report that Nathan Straus, the Tammany nominee for Mayor, has withdrawn, because Senator Hill has allowed the use of his name on some of the apt Tammany municipal tickets.

Thomas McKinney, residing in Vanceburg, met with a painful accident at Newport. While doing a heavy weight at the top of a high derrick, used for driving piles supporting the trestle on the C. and O. Road, he fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet, sustaining a fracture of the left arm and internal injuries.

Doctor C. O. Owens, reclining in his comfortable office yesterday afternoon, was singing his favorite song. The air was full of music, and even the choicest song-birds had hushed their voices out of respect for the Doctor's thrilling notes. Just as he had reached the apex of his brilliant rendition an old Irish lady stopped in front of the office and inquired of one of the crowd—

"Who does he burst in there?"

"Curran."

HOLLA AND THE REST.

Election day is coming, and each leader now is summing up the number of the votes he can count that he controls.

And the eager politician greets you smilingly and wishes:

That you'll vote a favor for him with your ballot at the polls.

He cares a deal about you, and he says he has no doubt you

Like to see a good legislation, and he's working for that end.

He will ask for your signed, quite forgetful of their stations.

And you soon before the politician is your earnest friend.

When election day is over you will very soon discover

That you're but an ordinary mortal on this scale sphere.

He no longer meets you smiling, 'twas your vote he was negotiating.

And he'll drop you from his memory till election time next year.

THE LOCALAPA

A Newsman's Been Telephoning Through His Hat.

How the Local Branch of the American Protective Association Is Swelling Its Ranks—Some Startling Figures.

Not enough By a jugful!

That is, if THE LEDGER is correctly advised.

Yesterday's Cincinnati Post contained this special from this city:

"MAYSVILLE, Ky., October 19th.—The local branch of the American Protective Association received 163 applications for membership last night and initiated 60.

The Order is preparing to take part in the fall election."

The correspondent's informant is said to have been slightly "off" in his numerical base.

At least THE LEDGER has a tip—and it didn't come by the corkerew route—that 163 is far below the number of applications, while the initiations were very largely in excess of 200, instead of the 60 stated in The Post's special.

More than this, THE LEDGER's office call, who was out quite late Thursday night, gives the information that meetings were held that evening at no less than three different places, and that the great mass of those present were Democrats of the most pronounced type.

At one place, out of more than eight who were present, only two were known to be Republicans.

Although the local A. P. A. is not seeking notoriety, it doesn't require any more time, telegraphing or type to get a thing just exactly right than it does to get it wrong.

And the hand played Miss Annie Hookey!

I desire to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to the city friends for their kindness shown me during the late illness and death of my beloved grand mother, Sallie Miller, who passed from this life October 16th to a higher one.

FRANK P. MILLER.

Fred Miller's branch of the peace was of the $1 size, and costs were added to make it interesting.

Hettie Bernard Chase, a most accomplished actress, will appear at Washington Opera house Tuesday evening next in one of the most laughable farce-comedies of the day.

FREE TURNPIKE ROADS.

Fugate County Plight Court Meeting in the Night Direction.

Caroline Mercury.

In publishing the proceedings of the Fiscal Court of Fayette county, Sunday Lexington Leader contains the following:

"The question of free turnpikes was discussed at length and it was agreed to urge the state Legislature to authorize the sale of the state's interest in the pikes to the respective counties through which they run."

There is no county in the state better fitted for the beginning of the work of securing free turnpikes than Fayette and we hope to see her push the good work. It may not come this year or next, or it may not be a reality for a dozen years, but free roads must come as one of the natural results of advancement. We know not how, we know not when, but by some means at some time the roads will be free. No one will be robbed, no one will be outraged, but it will come just as easy and nearly as easy as pulling on an old boot, and all the old croakers will stand around and wonder why the way and the means had not been thought of fifty years ago!

SPEAKS' STORY.

The Major Tells How the Firing Was Commenced.

For Half an Hour the Mob Bomarded the Heavy Oak Doors.

When They Yielded, and the Crowd Was About to Enter the Courthouse the Words of the Sheriff Were Heard.

Declare Col. Colt Was Drunk.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20.—"I stood at the landing on the third floor of the courthouse," said Maj. John C. Speaks, "before the door to fire was opened. The boys of companies B and C were cool and ready for any emergency, but in order to prevent a hasty action which should be repented, a detachment ready to reinforce those who stood guard immediately inside the barricaded doors formed in company line as if at roll call in a darkened room opposite the sheriff's office. I admonished them to sustain the Fourteenth regiment's record for bravery and coolness under trying circumstances."

"Outside of the room and ranged along the wall were the improvised beds of the tired soldiers. They had been reclining after an all-night vigil. In the sheriff's office were Sheriff Cook, emergency deputy or two, Surgeons Guerin and Taylor, Hospital Steward Richards, Col. Colt and Cincinnati Tribune representative."

"For more than half an hour the mob, 2,000 strong, for the court square was black with people, had been bombarding the heavy oak doors with stones and clubs. The glass in the windows in the basement story of the courthouse had been broken and an attempt made to enter. Still the boys didn't fire."

"The doors were braced with scantling and the furniture piled against them. Behind them were the men, with bayonets fixed and places cocked. Then the town bell sounded a fire alarm and there was some horrible suspicion that the frantic mob intended to burn the town."

"Our position, shut in the courthouse was far from comfortable. The flames leaped up half a square from the building, and two thousand angry men outside waited for a chance to break the doors and get the heavy soldiers. Dolby was in the sheriff's back room, closely guarded by soldiers. After the fire the mob returned to the courthouse and renewed the siege. They procured a huge pole, that looked to be thirty feet long and twelve inches thick, and used it as a battering ram. The noise made by this was terrible, for it reverberated through the halls until we could hardly endure it."

"Suddenly the double doors yielded, and one being ajar the crowd was tempted to come in. The men, however, persisted, with frantic yells, when the order rang out, 'Fire!' The boys on the ground fired, and the second and third landings did the shooting, those above of course being instructed to fire over the heads of the mob."

"The shooting is of course deplored, but what else could have been done? For nearly two hours the crowd had been besieging the courthouse, and at last broken in. To have let them in would have been a violation of all the rules of military usage, for we were there to uphold the law."

"Nobody was drunk. We were justified, much as we regret the fact that we were compelled to take such measures."

WASHINGTON, C. H., Oct. 20.—The movement for an investigation of Wednesday's tragedy is now beginning to take form. A special grand jury will unquestionably be called and a full inquiry instituted.

Friday Coroner James Edwards is being imperturbed by numbers of the foremost citizens to swear out warrants for the arrest of Sheriff Mike and Col. Colt on the charge of murder. The public generally still insist that Col. Colt, of the Fourteenth regiment, was intoxicated at the time of the attack on the courthouse. The statement has been openly made that the colonel was seen in the saloon, entering the saloons of Mike Casey and Pete Smith, near the jailyard.

Stamp Thief Caught. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Professional thieves know that it is dangerous to venture into Wall street without leave from the superintendent of police. Friday, however, Samuel Wells, whose picture is in the rogues' gallery, entered the office of Capt. Niece, a broker, to negotiate for the sale of about forty thousand postage stamps of various denominations, worth in all $1,750. Both men were at once arrested and the federal authorities notified. Wells refused to tell where he got the stamps. These are probably a portion of the stamps recently stolen from the bureau of printing and engraving at Washington.

Hunting for an Heir. BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 20.—Thos. Quinn, a young man, by the death of an aunt in Nashville, Tenn., recently fell heir to an immense fortune, principally in real estate in Nashville. Quinn is unmarried and a poor man, and while he worked at the printing press in the city Friday endeavoring to learn the whereabouts of Quinn. He left this city some time since to take a position in a rolling mill at Birmingham, Ala.

Shooting Murder By Tramps. ELIMIA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Ten tramps became engaged in a quarrel at South Waverly, Pa., Friday morning, when nine of them took the tenth, struck him up against a wall and shot him through the head killing him. The tramps, who are believed to be foreigners, escaped. One stranger was arrested. He refuses to give his name, but he was an Irishman, and was seen shooting and can identify the person who fired.

BOYS HANGED

For the Murder of a Bartender—The First Whites Ever Hanged in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 20.—At 8:05 a. m. Friday, Otto Wonegkeit and Charles Ermsch were hanged into eternity. Deputies Irish, Kinney, McCarron and Clewett assisted the state to the cells of the prisoners, and a few minutes later, preceded by Sheriff Chapin, Deputies Irish and Kinney came down stairs with Ermsch between them. He walked with a firm step and bore no expression of fear of death. Immediately behind him came Wonegkeit in charge of two deputies.

The same firm demeanor was marked in his appearance as that of his partner in crime. He did not falter as he took his place beside Ermsch on the gallows.

In a moment the ropes were placed about their necks and the black caps drawn over their faces. The deputies then stepped aside, the lever that held the trap in place was pulled by Sheriff Chapin and Wonegkeit dropped through the floor and out of sight of those on the gallows. In about ten seconds later Ermsch dropped. There was a slight defect in the adjustment of the levers, which caused a brief interval of time between the dropping of the tramps.

The four doctors in attendance pronounced Wonegkeit dead in eleven minutes. Ermsch in twelve. The boys were about 17 and 19 years old, respectively.

Young Woman's Awful Fate.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 20.—The dead and entirely nude body of Miss Keith, daughter of a respectable farmer near the city, was found in the bushes about three miles from here late Friday afternoon. The girl had been outraged and terribly out about different ways to school, and now the police are unable to find either the mother or the child.

Kidnaped by Her Mother.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 20.—A kidnapping occurred Friday as the result of a quarrel between Mrs. Williams. She secured possession of the youngest child—a little girl. She was kidnapped Friday by her mother, while on her way to school, and now the police are unable to find either the mother or the child.

More Canadian Paper Money.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—The proposed increase in the issue of dominion notes, authorized by an act of last session, has been approved by the governor in council, with the proviso that the dollar for dollar in gold shall be kept in the treasury for the new issue in accordance with a resolution of last session.

Foreign Missionary Association.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—The city is alive with delegates to the annual convention of the International Foreign Missionary association and which will be in session for at least a week. The city is being pestered by a number of questions affecting the internal policy of the church.

Slashed by an Unknowing.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Patrick Crowley, a soldier at the Soldiers' Home, was fatally stabbed by someone unknown, near the gate of the home. The strange man, who was seen entering the home and left him there without any explanation. Crowley is too weak to make any statement.

Ten Bombs Found.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 20.—Ten dynamite bombs were found Friday near the engine of a large manufacturing where a number of anarchists were formerly employed. They were powerful enough to have blown up the whole quarter of the city in which they were found.

Canada's Criminal Criticism.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The latest dispatches received at the Russian embassy here state that the Russian of the czar is extremely critical. The news of his condition has cast a gloom over St. Petersburg, Berlin, Cologne, Athens and other European cities.

Murder and Suicide.

TO A FINISH.

The Japanese Parliament Discusses War Measures.

The War Having Commenced, We Can Not Cease Operations.

Crit Our object shall have been gained. See the Mikado—China as Enemy of Civilization, and Japan Will Show Her Barbarous Obstinacy."

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A Central News dispatch from Tokyo says the special session of the Japanese parliament convened to consider war measures was opened at Hiroshima by the emperor himself.

In the speech from the throne opening the session, his majesty requested that the military measures presented should be disposed of with as little delay as possible.

The emperor expressed regret that through the obstinacy of China the peace of the east had been disturbed. But, the war having commenced, we can not cease operations until our object shall have been gained."

He also said he expected the members of parliament to willingly agree to the government proposals in the hope that thereby the Japanese arms would be victorious throughout and peace be the sooner restored, with additional luster to the country.

In the bill submitted providing for increased expenditures for the army and navy the war expenses are estimated at $150,000,000, of which amount $25,000,000 is to be taken from the government reserve fund.

Another bill introduced provides for raising a further internal loan of $100,000,000, payable in installments, with interest not to exceed 6 per cent.

A resolution will be submitted by the senate, under the terms of which the increase of the navy proposed at the fourth session shall not be accepted, and executed as rapidly as possible.

Under this resolution work upon the ships now in course of construction shall be pushed to completion, the additional defense hawks proposed shall be rapidly constructed, and the necessary supply of arms and munitions of war be secured with the least possible delay.

The address of the presidents concluded as follows: "Our country is rightly considering an enemy to civilization we solemnly with the imperial desire to destroy the barbarous obstinacy of that race."
